Acquisition of the old Winslow St. USO building from the General Services Administration of the Federal Government for use as a recreation center was again discussed, but no action was taken when it was reported by Fire Chief Cain that the building is to be torn down in the near future.

Mayor Clark commented on the North Carolina Fund and outlined its objectives and appointed Councilman Holt to the Fund Committee.

Councilman Rhodes, commenting on proper recognition of veteran City employees, moved that some type of award, such as a lapel button or certificate be granted at an appropriate meeting of the Council in recognition of such service. Motion seconded by Councilman Plummer and approved unanimously.

Councilman Rhodes then precipitated a short discussion on the possible necessity of an ordinance prohibiting live music (combos and orchestras) in certain types of business establishments in the downtown area. No action was taken.

Councilman Holt suggested a further review of retirement plans (for City employees). Mayor Clark suggested that Mr. Ray and himself formulate some basic rules and then at a subsequent meeting he would appoint a committee to work on this matter. This was agreeable.

Mayor Clark then recognized and welcomed Jimmy Ellis, a student from Horace Sisk Junior High School, who was present with his father to observe Council proceedings.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 9:30 P.M.
